

Young Girl Washing Dishes

Summer evenings
light lasting long memories of being stuck inside
Don and Bobby free
to dash outdoors

I dawdle over suds
shackled feet twitching
Why?

In part chafing
halfway resigned
fun likely over before the last clean dish

Yet, too --
Solitude seduces
moments for myself

plate by cup by spoon

Ellen B. Ryan